Director’s Message

Greetings and welcome to the first Retired and Annuitant Pay newsletter of 2019.

Here in Ohio, we are finally seeing signs of spring after a long, cold winter. But, spring also brings tax time.

One of the toughest parts of filing taxes is collecting all of that information. If you need tax documents for your retired or annuitant pay account, there’s an article in this issue on convenient options for getting them that don’t involve waiting on hold, such as using myPay to get both current and past tax documents.

We also have an article on making plans for your future to make it easier on your loved ones that outlines the avenues for having someone you trust assist you with your account.

This newsletter also highlights two new webpages, one about the VA waiver and disability entitlements and one about School Certifications. We are working to get more explanatory information on our website to help better your understanding of retired and annuitant pay, which is complex and can be confusing.

We also have an article about our new, simpler process for those who are eligible to withdraw from SBP due to qualifying VA disability.

Are you an annuitant who isn’t using myPay? Check out the article in this issue on the benefits you’re missing, and set up your access to myPay today.

Speaking of myPay, later this spring, myPay will undergo a transformation and you’ll see a fresher, more modern site when you log on. Check out the article in this issue for a sneak preview of some exciting changes.

I hope you find the articles in this issue helpful. And please share the information with your retired military friends who may not see the online editions of the newsletter.

We thank you for your service and are honored to serve you.
It’s Tax Season: Convenient Options for Getting the Tax Documents You Need

For many, the toughest part of filing taxes is collecting all of the tax information they need. If you need tax documents for your retired or annuitant pay account, here are convenient options for getting them.

myPay: Available When You Are

The fastest and most secure way to obtain a copy of your 1099-R is through myPay. Retirees and annuitants can log in to myPay, and print a 1099-R from the comfort of their home. Instructions are at:

https://go.usa.gov/xEMrn

With a myPay account, you have quick access to current and past tax documents such as account statements, 1099-Rs, 1095s, and the 1042-S.

And there’s more. If you’re a retiree, myPay allows you to change your mailing address, allotments, direct deposit information, and Arrears of Pay (AOP) beneficiaries. If you’re an annuitant, you can change your mailing address and direct deposit information, and you can submit a Certificate of Existence (COE) or a Report of Existence (ROE).

With an email address in myPay, you will also receive information from us on changes in policy that may affect your account.

https://go.usa.gov/xEMrf

There are also helpful videos on using myPay on DFAS’ YouTube channel. To get there, go to DFAS.mil and click on the YouTube icon in the upper right corner or go to YouTube.com and search for “DFAS.”
Other Convenient Options for Getting 1099-Rs

In addition to using myPay, we offer other convenient options for getting 1099-Rs. The options are explained on the “Taxes” page on our website:

https://go.usa.gov/xEMrP

Requesting a 1099-R online: You can use AskDFAS on our website to request we mail a 1099-R. It’s easy to get to the AskDFAS option from the gray box at the top of our webpage.

This link will take you into AskDFAS, where you can input your information and a 1099-R will be sent to your address of record or a one-time, temporary mailing address.

https://go.usa.gov/xEMYY

Telephone automated requests for a 1099-R: If you are a retiree, you can request a 1099-R using the telephone self-serve option by calling 800-321-1080, selecting “1” for Self-Serve and following the prompts. The 1099-R should be in the mail within 7-10 business days to the address we have on record.

Calling our Customer Care Center

Our representatives are dedicated, knowledgeable professionals and willing to help when needed. But as the tax deadline draws near, they are overloaded with calls for information that could be obtained more quickly and easily with the self-service resources outlined above. However, if you have a special situation, you are welcome to call Monday through Friday, 8:00 am-5:00 pm Eastern. Mondays and lunch time are the busiest times, so we recommend calling at other times.

Tax season is a busy time for you and for DFAS. We hope that the self-service options outlined above can make tax time easier.
Planning for Your Future

For retirees and annuitants, there are several avenues for allowing a loved one or other trusted individual assist you with your account. These avenues are called “third-party representatives” and fall into two categories, either non-pay-related or pay-related representation.

Non-Pay-Related versus Pay-Related Representation

Non-Pay-Related

A third-party representative (TPR) who is granted non-pay-related authority cannot make changes to retiree or annuitant payments from DFAS. The TPR can only assist the retiree or annuitant in matters such as correspondence address changes, issuing account statements, issuing W-2 or 1099-R forms, or completing and signing an annuity application. The TPR has the authority only so long as the retiree or annuitant is not incapacitated. Should the retiree or annuitant become incapacitated, the authority ends.

Pay-Related

The term “pay-related” refers to the authority of a third-party representative (TPR) to control and make changes to the banking information associated with the retiree or annuitant account at DFAS. This is the most significant authority that can be delegated to a TPR and is allowed only when the retiree or annuitant is incapable of handling his or her own affairs; that is, when they are deemed incapacitated.

In almost all instances, the granting of authority to make pay-related changes also allows the TPR to make other changes to the account, as well, including all non-pay-related changes. So, a third party who is granted pay-related authority will have blanket authority over all matters connected with the account.

Specific Types of Third-Party Representation

Non-Pay-Related Authority

General Power of Attorney (Retirees and Annuitants)

A General Power of Attorney (GPOA) allows a third party the authority to make non-pay-related changes. The retiree or annuitant cannot be incapacitated and must sign a Power of Attorney document appointing the agent. No medical evaluation is needed.
Pay-Related Authority

Guardianship (Retirees and Annuitants)

A guardianship must be court-ordered, and it grants authority outlined in a guardianship document to a guardian. In most cases, the guardian is given full authority over all of the retiree’s or annuitant’s affairs, which would include their account at DFAS. A guardianship takes precedence over any other third-party representation on file at DFAS.

Durable Power of Attorney (Retirees only)

A Durable Power of Attorney (DPOA) is a newly-authorized third-party representation for retired pay, and currently only applies to retirees. The authority granted to the third party, usually called an agent, is stated in a Durable Power of Attorney document and includes the ability to make pay-related changes to the retiree account. The retiree must sign the DPOA document and appoint the agent. A DPOA is effective only if the retiree becomes incapacitated. Evidence of incapacitation is needed in the form of a medical statement signed by a Medical Doctor (M.D.) or Psychiatrist.

Trusteeship (Retirees only)

A trusteeship is a third-party representation granting pay-related authority to a trustee on behalf of an incapacitated retiree who has neither a guardian nor an agent for a Durable Power of Attorney. A medical statement of incapacity is required. The trustee is appointed by DFAS. Trustees are required to post a bond and provide an annual report to DFAS.

Representative Payee (Annuitants only)

A representative payee, or “rep payee” is a TPR recognized for annuitants only. It is similar in scope to a Durable Power of Attorney for retirees, and includes the ability to make pay-related changes to the annuitant’s account at DFAS. A medical statement of incapacity is required. The rep payee is appointed by DFAS, not by the annuitant.
New Webpage Explains the VA Waiver, Retired Pay, CRDP and CRSC

Many military retirees who are eligible for DoD retired pay are also eligible for VA disability pay. The laws and regulations that apply when a retiree is eligible for both types of pay are complex and can be confusing, so we created a new webpage that explains the basics of the VA waiver, and the relationship between VA disability pay, retired pay, Concurrent Retirement and Disability Pay (CRDP) and Combat-Related Special Compensation (CRSC).

The law requires that a military retiree waive a portion of their gross DoD retired pay, dollar for dollar, by the amount of their Department of Veterans Affairs (VA) disability compensation pay; this is known as the VA waiver (or VA offset). The new webpage provides an overview of how the VA waiver works. It also summarizes the two programs created by Congress to allow eligible military retirees to recover some or all of the retired pay that retirees waive for VA disability pay: CRDP and CRSC.

In addition, the webpage also explains the impact on retired pay, CRDP and CRSC when a VA disability rating changes, as well as how retroactive disability rating changes might result in a retired pay or CRDP/CRSC Processing (CCP) debt.

We hope this webpage will help retirees better understand how these programs interact.

The webpage is under the "Disability Entitlements" section of the Retired Military & Annuitants area of the DFAS.mil website at:

https://go.usa.gov/xEMry
Survivor Benefit Plan (SBP) annuity payments typically stop for child annuitants covered under SBP when they reach age 18 unless they are incapacitated. However, if the child annuitant attends school full-time (in high school or at an accredited college or university), the SBP annuity payments can continue until they reach age 22 or otherwise become ineligible.

To validate their eligibility, child annuitants turning 18 years old must send a Child Annuitant’s School Certification form (DD Form 2788) by the date of their 18th birthday, and child annuitants over age 18 must send a School Certification form by the end of each school term.

To help explain the requirements of the School Certification form, we created a new webpage and added some new Q&As to the “Survivor Benefit and Arrears of Pay Frequently Asked Questions” page on our website.

The new webpage explains the initial school certification requirements for child annuitants who turn 18, whether in high school or in college at the time and has links to the form and instructions. It also links to the FAQ page, which answers questions such as:

- How often do I need to send a Child Annuitant’s School Certification?
- When do I send the school certification during the school year?
- When should I fill out and sign the Child Annuitant’s School Certification form?
- What dates do I put on the school certification?
- Who is the school official that should fill out and sign the Child Annuitant’s School Certification (DD Form 2788) form?

The School Certification webpage is under the “Survivors and Beneficiaries” section of the Retired Military & Annuitants area of the DFAS.mil website at:

https://go.usa.gov/xEMrp

New, Simpler Process for Retirees Eligible to Withdraw from SBP Due to Qualifying VA Disability

Early in April, we are implementing a new, simpler process for withdrawing from Survivor Benefit Plan (SBP) coverage due to a qualifying VA disability. With this new process, the withdrawal form and required fact sheet will be available to download in a PDF packet from the Forms page on our website instead of contacting DFAS to request the form. Also, retirees will no longer need to obtain separate VA eligibility information. We worked with VA to obtain the information electronically on the retiree’s behalf.

With the new process, eligible retirees can download the PDF withdrawal packet, read the fact sheet, fill out the form and send it to DFAS. We will then verify eligibility and process the withdrawal, if qualified. It’s simpler and faster.

We also have a new webpage with information about the new withdrawal process and additional information about factors to consider in withdrawing from SBP coverage at:

https://go.usa.gov/xEMrw
Tip: Changing Bank Accounts for Your Pay? Start Early

When you need to change the bank account for your direct deposit, or change an allotment, make sure you allow a window of time for the change to be processed before payday. Making those changes isn’t instant, even in myPay. Although, making changes in myPay is much quicker than mailing or faxing it in.

When you use myPay to make a bank account or allotment change, myPay will provide an effective date, so you’ll know whether the change will be made for the next payday or the payday after that. In general, if you make a change in myPay during the first half of the month, it will be effective for the upcoming payday.

When you mail or fax the change to us, or call our Customer Care Center, you should plan for 30 days for the change to process.

If you are changing bank accounts, it’s always a good idea to keep your old account open until you know the change was made.

Coming Soon to a Screen Near You: a Simpler, Streamlined, Mobile-Friendly myPay

You already know that myPay is the most convenient way to manage your retired or annuitant pay account and get the tax documents you need. This spring, myPay will change, making it simpler and more convenient to use.

When you use myPay later this spring, you will see some big differences. The most striking difference will be the appearance of the myPay home page, which will look more like other online financial sites you are used to seeing, with the login area on the right side instead of the left, a banner area with important information, and quick links at the top. The home page will also appear more modern.

When you log in to myPay after the change, you will also see a streamlined navigation menu. The same menu choices will be available, but they will be organized into categories and the menu will appear on the left side on every page.

Another change is that myPay will be easier to use on your favorite mobile device. When you use myPay on your mobile browser, the menus and screens will adjust to your mobile device.

What will not change is your login ID and password; they will transfer over. The same login ID and password you use before the transformation, you will use after (as long as your password has not expired). And the “Forgot your Login ID?” and “Forgot or Need a Password?” options will be the same.

After the changeover, you will see a myPay that looks different. You can always ensure you are connecting to the official myPay system by checking your browser’s address bar for the correct myPay URL: https://mypay.dfas.mil

There will also be updated video walk-throughs and FAQs to help you accomplish a variety of common online tasks, such as accessing a myPay account for the first time, password updates, and bank account and address changes.

You can find out more about how to use myPay and the upcoming changes on our website: DFAS.mil
